FEDERAL RELATIONS.

The condition of our country at this time excites the most serious fears for the perpetuation of the Union. "Clouds, o'erlapping clouds, are weaving o'er our house an evil woof, a fearful canopy." The country is torn by dissensions; fierce and angry excitement exhibits itself in all sections; passion and prejudice have taken absolute posses-sion of the minds of the people, throughout the land. The vile spirit of faction, "which pollutes the fountain of national honor, and diga the grave of patriotism," shows itself on all sides. Confidence is destroyed; fraternal feeling has been supplanted by intense sectional hate; the spirit of conciliation has been smothered and crushed, and the affections of the people, North and South East and West, appear to have been entirely with drawn from their government. The ties of broth-erhood have been severed; and, though living un-der the same Constitution, the sections seem to be der the same Constitution, the sections seem to be as hostile, each to the other, as if their citizens belonged to unfriendly governments. Distrust has marred the pleasure of friendship and social intercourse; bitterness and unkindness have crushed out fraternity. Unity of feeling, unity of action is now gone. It is hardly possible for a government to live and flourish under such adverse circumstances! "We must not, however, look mournfully into the past." That is beyond the hope of recall. We must wisely improve the present; correct its errors; reform its abuses; reunite the severed ties of affection, and enkindle

It is interesting to trace our progress, from the formation of the Consitution up to the present time. The results will be found in the highest degree gratifying to our pride as a people, and immensely important, so far as our power and influence as a nation are concerned. Our power, our influence, our prosperity, our agricultural, mechanical and manufacturing wealth, have increased beyond all ex-pectation. That banner which is borne up, and which has been carried forward by the unseen yet steady hand of progress, has attained a position far in advance of the hopes and anticipations of the founders of our government. Surely no peo-ple have been blessed as we have been, and it is melancholy to think that all is now about to be sacrificed upon the alter of passion. If the judg-ments of men were consulted, if the admonitions of their consciences were respected, the Union would yet be saved from overthrow. Every calm, considerate, and reflecting mind is filled with apprehensions of the most painful character; every patriotic heart throbs with anxiety, and all conservative men throughout our extended country are seeking to devise some means of escape from are seeking to devise some means of escape from the evils that now threaten our peace, and the continued existence of the government. If the convention shall meet, and the question cannot be satisfactorily adjusted, it will question cannot be satisfactorily adjusted, it will furnish evidence equally conclusive of their de-termination. In either event, the people of the South will clearly understand what they are to expect in the future."

The article of the Constitution, to which reference is here made, is in the following words, and I quote it, inasmuch as it will be referred to herefter in this communication

"The Congress, whenever two-thirds of both Houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose amendments to this Constitution, or, on the applications of the Legislatures of two-thirds of the several States, shall call a convention for proposing amendments, which, in either case, shall be ralid to all intents and purposes, as part of this Constitution, when ratified by the Legislatures of three-fourths of the several States, or by conventions in three-fourths thereof, as the one or the ther mode of ratification may be proposed by the Congress."

Under this article, the Constitution of the Unit ed States has been amended on three several oc-casions in our history, and those amendments have all been exceedingly valuable and important. The first ten amendments were ratified by some of the States in 1789, by others in 1799, and by the resi-due in 1791. Another amendment was proposed in 1794, which the President of the United States appropried in his messages to both Husses, dated announced in his message to both Houses, dated January 8th, 1798, as having been adopted by the constitutional number of States. The last amendment was proposed in 1803, and adopted by the constitutional number of States in 1804. These constitutional number of States in 1804. These amendments were proposed and adopted at periods less alarming, perhaps, than at the present day. Still their adoption was necessary to insure peace and quiet to our country, and were demanded by a proper deference to public opinion. In the present condition of public affairs, why cannot such additional amendments as the circumstances now existing require, be proposed for ratification and adoption? The necessity is manifest, and the duty to adopt all constitutional measures before we resort to the ultimate remedy of secession is imperative. Is it not monstrous to see a Government like ours destroyed, merely because men cannot agree about a domestic instibecause men cannot agree about a domestic insti-tution, which existed at the formation of the Government, and which is now recognized by fif-teen out of the thirty-three States composing the tions these are securely protected. Now, that guarantees are the order of the day, and each State is earnestly and anxiously inquiring what guarantees are required for her protection, it beomes us to secure such as will protect and preserve the rights of persons and property of our own citizens. A disruption of the Union is inevitable; and if new confederacies are to be formed, we must have the best guarantees before we can attach our State to either of them.

The late Executive of South Carolina, in his message to the Legislature, devotes considerable space to a commentary upon your action respecting "a conference of the southern States." Tha reference does not appear to me to be dictated by a kind spirit. It wears the aspect of dissatisfac tion with your decision, and, in connection with other portions of the message, indicates distrust of, and hostility on his part, towards this Comnwealth. The duty which I owe to Virginia demands a notice of so much of this communica tion as relates to our State, and the action of her

Why Virginia alone, of all the southern States. should have been singled out for comment, is to me unaccountable. The resolutions of the South Carolina Legislature, asking the conference, were transmitted to all the southern States, and none of those States responded, except Mississippi and Alabama. Why no complaint of the other States who declined to accede to the proposal? After a careful examination of your resolutions, since the perusal of the Governor's message, I see nothing that could have entitled them to the special notice that has been bestowed upon them. They declare, "that the General Assembly of Virginia, recognizing in our present relations with the non-slaveholding States an imperative necessity for decisive measures, does not yet distrust the capacity of the southern States, by a wise and firm exercise of their reserved powers, to protect the rights and liberties of the people, and to preserve the Federal Union. For this purpose, we earnestly desire the concurrent action of the southern States." The authorities of Virginia acted with kindness and courtesy towards the State of South Carolina and her estimable Commissioner, and in declining to go into a southern conference at that time, they

South Carolina having determined upon her future course, without consultation with any one of her slaveholding sister States, her late executive annunces in his message, "It is too late to receive propositions for a conference; and the State would be wanting in self-respect, after having deliberately decided on her course, to entertain any propo-sition looking to a continuance of the present Union. We can get no safer or better guarantee than the present Constitution, and that has proved impotent to protect us against the fanaticism of the North." It may be too late now to confer with her sister States, but there was a time when she could have conferred with them with great propriety, and perhaps advantage to herself and them. The Governor states that Colonel Memminger was not sent to Virginia "to plan a dis-solution of the Union, but to save it, if possible."

the provisions of the present Constitution will not prove satisfactory to South Carolina. Believing that she can get nothing more than the Constitution accords to her, without even making an ef fort through a Convention of all the States, her late Executive solemnly announces, "It is too late to receive propositions for a conference; that "having deliberately decided on her course, self-respect forbids her from entertaining any

The late Executive of South Carolina is not content to announce this determination, but his recommendations look to the embarrassment of every slaveholding State on the border which is not disposed to follow her lead. Hence we find his message an open and undisguised proclamation of war upon the interests of all the border slaveholding States, unless they unite with South Carolina.

In renewing the recommendation at this time, I annex a modification, and that is, that commissioners shall not be sent to either of the New England States. Finally the vote was taken, when it appeared that the Louisville resolutions were adopted by an overwhelming majority. This public excitement in reference to the conis good for the staunch farmers of Woodford.

"THE FOREIGN ELEMENT."-It will be seen by an extract from a secession paper, which we publish in another place, that the disunionists are providing for the permanency of their proposed future Autocracy, by taking measures to exclude from all participation in affairs of government "the foreign element." The constitution of South Carolina them the paper from and after the issue of already disfranchises poor men. Freemen, while you are freemen, re- pise him. flect long and well before you put your heads into such a noose.

SHELL OUT .- We learn that the Governor's Guards have appointed a committee to solicit subscriptions from our citizens, to aid in buying uniforms for sundry individuals who desire to be enrolled in the State Guard, but who, for want of means, are unable to buy the necessary equipment.

We hope that the men of capital in our city will respond liberally to this call. Men of substance are particularly interested in the preservation of order and in the protection of property. If the existing revolution does not go backwards, there will be need of a strong military force to keep down the restless, plundering vagabonds who abound in every part of the country. In peace, prepare for war. Preparation is not war, and every sensible, patriotic citizen will aid the Governor's Guards, to the extent of his means, in organizing such a military company as will do credit to the capital city.

If Kentucky sends commissioners to a convention of slave States, let it be to a convention in which no States will have a voice except those who are in the Union. She would deserve to be kicked if she allows any State which has seceded to control her action in regard to the preservation of the Union. What a magnificent spectacle to witness! Kentucky consulting how to preserve the Union, consistently with her rights, with States who have destroyed the Union. and who do not desire to preserve it! If seceding States should desire to send Commissioners, hear what they have to say, but allow them no more power than a delegate from a territory is allowed in the Congress of the United States.

FAMINE IN SOUTH CAROLINA. - A gentleman of Charleston, writing to a friend in New York, implored him to induce the rich merchants of the latter city to load a vessel with provisions and send it around to Charleston, to alleviate the sufferings of the people, whom he represents to be in a starving condition.

If secession, in this brief time, has reduced the proud and arrogant South Carolinians to the humiliation of begging of those whom they have ever affected to despise, what will be their condition in a year? So endeth the first lesson of S. C. in the grand experiment of secession and non-intervention with States which remain in the Union.

MAYOR OF KNOXVILLE .- Jas. C. Lutrell, & Union man, and run as such, was elected Mayor of Knoxville, Tenn., on Saturday last. The Knoxville Whig says that a majority of the people of Tennessee do not favor secession, but will, "at all hazards and to the last extremity," vote to remain in the Union, demanding their rights in the Union and under the Constitution.

ELECTION OF STATE SENATOR .- Hon. James Simpson was elected Senator, without opposi tion, to fill the vacancy caused by the death Sen atorial District.

MR. BUCHANAN'S CONTRIBUTIONS NOT TO AP PEAR IN THE LEDGER .- Owing to the state of duct of President Buchanan, Mr. Robert Bonner, of the Ledger, has felt called upon to release himself from his engagement to publish a series of essays on public topics om the President's pen. Mr. Bonner, it is alleged, says, in private justification of his course, that he has received orders in advance, from many hundreds of the most prominent newspaper dealers throughout the country, and from many thousands of his regular subscribers, to discontinue sending written by his Excellency the President. Mr. Bonner, in a letter to President Buchanan, dated Dec. 27, says:

Suicide of a Kentucky Preacher.

We learn from the Cincinnati papers of esterday that Elder R. C. Rice, who was a Christian preacher stationed at Eminence Ky., committed suicide at the Spencer House on Sunday night, by shooting himself through the head with a pistol. Among letters addressed to different individuals was the following for Mayor Bishop:

THE AMERICAN FLAG TO BE VINDICATED. It was announced to-day that no reinforce ments will be sent to Fort Sumpter at pres ent, as they are not needed; but I have good reason to believe it to be the settled purpose of the Administration to vindicate the flag of the Union, by sending a war steamer as soon as the Department can be properly arranged. over ten years, and can say, in confidence and truth, of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—never has it failed in a single instance to effect a cure, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who use it. On the contrary, all are didighted with its overstions and sneak in terms. delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of the highest commendation of its magical effects and medicinal virtues. We speak in this matter "what we do know" after ten years experience and pledge our reputation for the fulfillment of what we here declare. This valuable preparation is the prescription fone of the most EXPERIENCED and SKILL-FUL NURSES in New England, and has been sned with NEVER-FAILING SUCCESS in

THE AMALGAMATION OF LANGUAGES.—There is a growing tendency in this age to appropriate the most expressive words of other languages, and after a while to incorporate them into our own; thus the word Cephalic, which is from the Greek, signifying "for the head," is now becoming popularized in connection with Mr. Spalding's great Headache remedy, but it will soon be used in a more general way, and the word Cephalic will become as common as Electrotype and many others, whose distinction as foreign words has been worn away by common usage, until they seem "native and to the manor born." Headache is the favorite sign by which naure makes known any deviation whatever from natural state of the brain, and viewed in this light natural state of the brain, and viewed in this light it may be looked on as a safeguard, intended to give notice of disease which might otherwise es-cape attention till too late to be remedied; and its indications should never be neglected. Headaches indications should never be neglected. Headaches may be classified under two names, viz: Symptomatic and Idiopathic. Symptomatic Headache is exceedingly common, and is the precursor of a great variety of diseases, among which are Apoplexy, Gout, Rheumatism, and all febrile diseases. In its nervous form it is sympathetic of disease of the stomach constituting sick headache, of hepatic disease constituting bilious headache, of worms, as well as renal and uterine affections. Diseases of well as renal and uteripe affections. Diseases of the heart are very frequently attended with Head-aches; Anæmia and plethorn are also affections which frequently occasion headache. Idiopathic Headache is also very common, being usually distinguished by the name of nervous headache, some times coming on suddenly in a state of apparentl sound health and prostrating at once the menta and physical energies, and in other instances it comes on slowly, heralded by depression of spirits or acerbity of temper. In most instances the pain is in the front of the head, over one or both eyes, and sometimes provoking vomiting; under this class may also be named Neuralgia.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

A compound remedy, in which we have labored to produce the most effectual alterative that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of Para Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed sarsaparina is reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by expercompound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found

of the following complaints: —
SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS, ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AF-FECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEU-RALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYS-PEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud. Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the endurance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it is ob-structed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this pabulum of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation, of accomplishing these ends. the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it, contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or any thing else.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly despised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete eradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on the bottle.

PREPARED BY DR. J. C. AYER & CO. a LOWELL, MASS.
Price, $1 per Bottle; Six Bottles for $5.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, has won for itself such a renown for the cure of every variety of Throat and Lung Complaint, that it is entirely unnecessary for us to recount the evidence of its virtues, wherever it has been employed. As it has long been in constant use throughout this section, we need not do more than assure the people its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do for their relief all it has ever been found to do.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR THE CURE OF Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and for Purifying the Blood.

They are sugar-coated, so that the most sensitive can take them pleasantly, and they are the best aperient in the world for all the purposes of a Bridge, being the same formerly occupied by Todd.

Price 25 cents per Box; Five boxes for $1.00. Great numbers of Clergymen, Physicians, Statesmen, and eminent personages, have lent their names to certify the unparalleled usefulness of these remedies, but our space here will not permit the insertion of them. The Agents below named furnish gratis our AMERICAN ALMANAC in which they are given; with also full descriptions of the above complaints, and the treatment that should be followed for their cure.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with other preparations they make more profit on. Demand AYER's, and take no others. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should
